Upon receipt of an application requiring professional services, the Board Secretary shall send a copy of the application to the Municipal Engineer and the appropriate professional consultants.

Within seven days of receipt of a copy of the application, said professional consultant shall submit an estimate of the funds sufficient to pay for the technical reviews, reports and other services they deem will be necessary concerning the application. After receipt of such estimated fees, the approving authority shall determine the funds necessary to pay its professional consultants for anticipated services to be rendered concerning the application, and the applicant shall forthwith deposit the required funds with the municipality to be maintained in an escrow account to be used for the payment of professional services rendered to the approving authority by its consultants in the following manner:

- (a) the professional consultant shall submit vouchers to the municipality for the services and upon approval of the approving authority, the voucher shall be paid from the applicant's escrow account. The applicant may request of the approving authority copies of vouchers submitted for payment from the applicant's escrow account and may request the opportunity to be heard by the approving authority concerning such vouchers prior to being approved for payment.
- (b) the balance remaining in the applicant's escrow account upon final action on the application shall be returned to the applicant.
- (c) in the event the funds deposited by the applicant are found to be insufficient to pay the approving authority's professional consultants for their services, the approving authority may require the applicant to deposit additional funds with the municipality for that purpose.
- (d) the Board Secretary shall notify the approving authority's professional consultants when the escrow deposits have been made and that they may begin their reviews of the application.
- (e) the approving authority shall take no formal action concerning the application unless the application fees and escrow fees have been paid to the municipality.

Ch. 37-29 C. (2) shall be amended as follows:

An application shall not be deemed complete unless the Municipal Engineer of the Board to which the application has been made shall have certified in writing that the application is complete.

Severability All provisions of this Ordinance are severable. If for any reason, any provision of this Ordinance is held to be invalid, the validity of the remainder of the Ordinance shall not be affected.

Effective Date. This Ordinance shall become effective upon final approval and publication, pursuant to law, and upon completion of all outstanding cases.

1. Any property owner or other person directly affected by a decision of the Zoning Official may appeal to the Zoning Board of Adjustment. Please understand that the Zoning Official must apply the Zoning or other ordinances strictly; he lacks the authority to make adjustments of the law to suit particular problems.

2. Ordinarily, before the Zoning Official can apply the law to your case he will require a dimensioned sketch showing the location of the proposed building or addition on your property. A detailed survey or plot plan is therefore almost always required.

3. If you disagree with the Administrative Officer's interpretation, or seek a variance from the strict requirements of the ordinance, you must complete an application on forms provided by the Secretary of the zoning Board of Adjustment. Please answer all questions carefully and legibly. An application fee is required.

4. Generally, there are two kinds of variances. The first is a so-called "bulk" variance which relates to some dimensional requirement of the ordinance such as width of lot, area of lot, required yards, percentage of lot coverage by structure, or height of building.

These are governed by New Jersey Statute 40:55D-70(C) and are sometimes known as "C" variances.

"C" variances may be granted on either of two theories supported by proof:

1. If there is exceptional narrowness, shallowness, or shape of a specific piece of property, or if there are exceptional topographic conditions or physical features uniquely affecting a specific piece of property or the lawful structures such that the strict application of the zoning ordinance would result in peculiar and exceptional practical difficulties or hardship, then the board may consider a bulk variance. Note that the hardship must arise out of the nature of the property itself, and not be a family or personal problem.

2. The second theory on which a bulk variance may be granted is where, for a specific piece of property the purposes of the Municipal Land Use Law would be advanced by a bulk variance and the benefits of that variance would substantially outweigh any detriment. The purposes are listed in New Jersey Statute 40:55D-2 and your application should be specific.

5. The other kinds of variance are the five listed in New Jersey Statute 40:55D-70(d) and are sometimes known as "d" variances. The five kinds are: (1) use or principal structure in a zoning district which does not permit such use or principal structure; (2) expansion of a non-confirming use; (3) variance from a standard which pertains solely to a conditional permitted use; (4) an increase in the permitted floor area ratio; (5) an increase in permitted density. "d" variances may only be granted for special reasons in particular cases.

Generally, unless the proposed use is charitable, the applicant should demonstrate that the site is not suited for any zoned use and that it is peculiarly suited for the proposed use. They require five affirmative votes by the Board of Adjustment.

6. In addition there maybe appeals from what you feel are errors made in the enforcement of the Zoning Ordinance or for interpretation of the zoning map or other ordinances.

7. In any of these cases you must show that the variance can be granted without substantially impairing the intent and purpose of the zoning Ordinance and Zone Plan. Obviously, you must present factual evidence and understand the intent and purpose of the Zoning Ordinance.

8. If the application involves more than a one or two family residence, Site Plan Review may be required. If it is to disturb more than 5,000 square feet of the surface area of the land for other than a single family residence, then Soil Erosion and Sediment Control Plan must be filed with the appropriate state agency.

9. After your application is completed the Secretary of the Board will give you a date for the hearing. You must publish notice of hearing in a local legally-designated newspaper and serve written notice on the owners of every piece of property within 200 feet of any part of the property for which the variance application is made. A list of property owners will be prepared for you. In addition if the property is within 200 feet of a county road you must serve the County Planning Board. If within 200 feet of the municipal boundary you must serve property owners in the adjoining municipality, the Clerk of that other municipality, and the County Planning Board. Service of notice must be completed at least 7 days before the hearing and you must file with the Board of Adjustment an affidavit of service to be prepared by you.

10. Members of the Board of Adjustment may inspect your property before the hearing to familiarize themselves with the problem.

11. The Board is made up of seven members and two alternates. All serve without pay.

12. The authority of the Board of Adjustment is limited by the Statutes and Woodcliff Lake Ordinances. You may present your appeal in person or through your attorney, but in either event, you must be prepared to present proofs required by law for your particular case. A corporation must be represented by an attorney. The Board makes recordings of the hearing and will ask that each person identify himself and speak clearly so that the recording can be understood later.

13. If you want a stenographic record you may engage a court-certified stenographer at your expense and should be willing to supply a copy of the transcript to the Board without expense, if required.

14. When your case is called you should be prepared to standup, explain what you want to do, why a variance is apparently required, what the neighborhood is like, how far neighboring buildings are from your property line, and present evidence on these and other practical points as concisely as possible. Identify buildings and uses by reference to the tax assessment map.

15. If the Board of Adjustment grants a variance, it may do so with conditions attached. A formal resolution memorializing the Board's decision, approving or denying an appeal or application or providing an interpretation of the Zoning Ordinance, will be adopted, usually at a meeting a month after a decision is reached.

16. An appeal from the decision of the Board of Adjustment may be made to the Law Division of the Superior Court within 45 days of publication of the Board's decision in a local legally-designated newspaper, and such appeal will be based on the record produced before the Board.

17. For more detailed information we suggest you see the Municipal Land Use Law which is codified as New Jersey Statutes 40:55D, and the Woodcliff Lake Zoning, Land Use, and/or Fence or Sign Ordinances. The Soil Erosion and Sediment control Act is New Jersey Statute 4:24-39 through 55, and the nearest Soil Conservation District Office is at 327 Ridgewood Avenue, Paramus, N.J. 07653 (Phone: 201-261-4407). The County Planning Board is at 21 Main Street, Hackensack, N.J. 07601 (Phone: 201-646-2896).
